

Yaprak Gürsoy

Yaprak Gürsoy received her PhD from the University of Virginia, Department of Politics. Her dissertation is a comparative study of Greek and Turkish political regimes, civil-military relations, and businessmen's political attitudes. For her dissertation, Dr. Gürsoy conducted more than 100 interviews with Greek and Turkish military officers, politicians, and businessmen. Her research in Greece was funded by the State Scholarship Foundation of Greece. Currently, Dr. Gürsoy is an assistant professor at Istanbul Bilgi University, teaching subjects such as Comparative Politics, Political Transformation in Europe, and the Politics in Southern Europe. She is the author of Türkiye'de Sivil-Asker İlişkilerinin Dönüşümü (İstanbul Bilgi Üniversitesi Yayınları, 2013) and her articles have appeared in several international journals, including Political Science Quarterly (forthcoming), Democratization, Journal of Political and Military Sociology, Journal of Modern Greek Studies, South European Society and Politics, and Turkish Studies.